MEMORIAL

Tuesday the 1st of October

St. Thérèse of the Child Jesus, Virgin, Doctor

Saint Theresa was born at Alençon in France in 1873. While still a young girl, she entered the Carmelite monastery at Lisieux. There she lived a life of humility, evangelical simplicity and trust in God. By word and example, she taught these virtues to the novices of the community. Offering her life for the salvation of souls and the growth of the Church, she died September 30, 1897.

As his way of approaching God, St. Francis lived a life close to nature. He called all creatures his “brothers” and “sisters,”. He preached to the birds. By promising a wolf that the townspeople would feed him, the wolf agreed to stop attacking the people of the town and their livestock.

St. Francis wrote “The Canticle of Brother Sun” at a time of serious illness for him, and it expresses the freedom of a soul reconciled with God in Christ. Saint Francis accepted “sister death” with joy knowing he would be going to Jesus.

BENEDICT XVI in a general audience at Paul VI Audience Hall, on Wednesday the 27th of January, 2010, said: Saint Francis was instrumental in renewing the Church. On the one hand, it is interesting to note it is not the Pope who was helping to prevent the church from collapsing but rather a small and insignificant brother, whom the Pope recognized it was through Francis this was being accomplished when he later came to visit. Innocent III was a powerful Pope who had a great theological formation and great political influence; nevertheless, he was not the one to renew the Church but this small, insignificant religious. It was St Francis, called by God. Yet, it is important to note that St Francis did not renew the Church without or in opposition to the Pope, but only in communion with him. The two realities go together: the Successor of Peter, the Bishops, the Church founded on the succession of the Apostles and the new charism that the Holy Spirit brought to life at that time through St. Francis for the Church's renewal. Authentic renewal grew from these together.

St. Francis died the evening of October 2, 1226.
